ordering america painting a felicitous portrait of western civilization shows that its defining ideals rooted in man's common human nature a perception newly substantiated by modern evolutionary psychology were best fulfilled by realization of the american founding order twentieth century progressivism and postmodern multiculturalism detoured america down the way of social constructionism human nature and equality are produced by culture and the state through groups the book sets a course to revive the western ideals and return to an opportune center right american order applying latest scientific insights and restoring individual responsibility and reciprocity under more limited still energetic government befitting our century the century that began in 1914 with the outbreak of the first world war was catastrophic over the course of that one hundred year span civilizations were destroyed in the old world the new world and the third world the latter represented by china india and islam in europe the main agent of destruction was totalitarianism in america it was globalization ushered in by modernity and in the non western world it was colonialism followed later by totalitarianism and globalization harry redner examines each of these processes providing theoretical and historical accounts of their emergence he considers the effects of nazism and bolshevism on the morale and morals of europe studies the effects on the united states of the nation's emergence as a major world power and describes the impact of modernization on China, India, and Islam as they underwent Europeanization, Sovietization, and Americanization. Redner confronts us with a paradox in the midst of unprecedented material affluence and organizational efficiency: one that uses advanced technologies and cutting-edge scientific knowledge, we are also sinking into an unprecedented cultural, moral, intellectual, and spiritual decline. He locates the origins of this condition in the violently contradictory processes of the twentieth century.
